

OCTOBER 18

“DON'T RAKE YOUR LEAVES IN A TORNADO.”

READ

1 John 2:15-17

God has put us in this world for an appointed time. We have a certain number of years to live, and then He will call us home. But while we're here, we're never to accommodate the world. We're never to accumulate its things. Don't ever let money or things control you. You see it on your TV, on the internet, on the streets — everywhere. Again, I tell you if it's not of God, it's going to pass away. Don't rake your leaves in a tornado. Don't paint your house in a rainstorm. Establish your life on the Word of God, and it will never pass away. The world is in the process of dying, but he who does the will of God abides forever. Pray with me today that we would do that which pleases Him.

PRAY

Father in heaven, don't let me waste a moment. Don't let me look for things that aren't lasting. Let me set my affection on things above, where You are, and live forever.
