

FEBRUARY 26

“LET GO AND LET GOD HAVE HIS WAY.”

READ

Ephesians 3:20

God is sovereign. God is not programmable. You cannot plug certain scriptural data into God’s computer, and say, “You’ve got to perform Your Word.” God does what He wants to for His glory and for His good pleasure. We are so enamored with the principles for victorious living that we have missed the presence of the One who gives us the victory. We try to make God predictable. We’ve reversed the roles of the Divine and human. We have forgotten that we are the clay and He is the Potter. God has been reduced to a god who owes me something and who must respond if I say the right words. It just doesn’t work that way. If you give up your pitiful, manipulative ways and allow God to be God, you will find that God will be better, stronger, and more compassionate than anything you could have conceived in your mind. At some point in your life, you have to surrender, believing God will take care of you in His own way, for His own glory.

PRAY

I ask, Lord, because You tell me to. I thank You Lord that You will answer according to Your perfect will, and that Your answer always exceeds my asking. All to Jesus, I surrender.

From August 19, 2007